Mount Olympus is the highest point on this island partially occupied by Turkey?

This type of small, rapidly rotating stellar remnant was left at the center of the Crab Nebula?

Which poet of “Locksley Hall” wrote the line “And like a thunderbolt he falls” in his poem “The Eagle”?

Still scratching your head for the answers?

Learn the answers to questions like these by volunteering at quest

Super Saturday high school academic competition on Dec. 5 at Washburn University.

In our “Quest for the Best,” nearly 400 Kansas high school students will be on campus to compete for the chance to participate in the televised versions of the Quest academic competition.

We’re looking for volunteers to read questions, be timekeepers or assist in a variety of other ways.

All volunteers are required to attend an orientation meeting the morning of the event for briefing on Quest rules, the responsibilities of moderators and scorekeepers and any other information critical to the testing process.

Due to the steady growth and success of Quest, we are in great need of volunteers. If you know of others who may also be interested in assisting, please ask them to call 785-670-1342.

If you are interested in volunteering, please complete and return the form below by Friday, November 13.

More information will be provided to those who volunteer. Hope to see you on Super Saturday!

Questions about Quest? Call 785-670-1342 or e-mail michael.mcguire@washburn.edu.

Yes, I would like to volunteer at the Quest Super Saturday event on Dec. 5

Name ____________________________________________
Daytime Phone Number ____________________________ Cell Phone Number ____________________________
Address __________________________________________ City ____________________ Zip __________
E-mail address ___________________________________________________________________________
I would like to (check one): _______ Read questions ________ Be a timekeeper _________ Other as needed
Name of the person you would like to be paired with on Super Saturday: ______________________________
Have you volunteered at Quest before? ____Yes ____ No How did you hear about Quest? ________________

E-mail information to michael.mcguire@washburn.edu or mail to:
Michael McGuire, Washburn University, 1700 SW College, Topeka 66621

Answers: Cyprus, neutron star, Alfred, Lord Tennyson