PTERODACTYLS

by Nicky Silver

April 23, 24, 30, May 1, May 2

art: Barbara Waterman-Peters

The world Nicky Silver writes of is one which grows colder by the moment. Survival is at issue, yet blindness prevents any kind of vision for the future. Existence is a farce which this family continues to replay, they have lost touch as they spiral toward extinction. These pterodactyls have become earthbound.
