

ED 200 Educational Psychology

Finding and Summarizing Journal Articles (Task #3)

Option 1

Several educational journals were listed in the assignment as good places to find journal articles. To actually access these journals, start by searching ATLAS, the library catalog, to see if the journal is available at Mabee Library or at the CRC.

This journal is available in print. Click here to find out where it is located* and which dates are included.

It is also available online. Click here to find out which dates are available electronically and to begin reading the journal.

*Print journals focusing on educational psychology will most likely be housed at Mabee Library, in the basement (1st floor). They are shelved alphabetically by journal title. (i.e., Childhood Education is in the 'C's')

Option 2

If you are interested in a particular topic, this site can be used to search for your specific topic in many education journals. After you find relevant citations, see if the article is available on ERIC. If it is not, follow the steps in “Option 1” to locate the item at Mabee Library.

The screenshot shows the ERIC Advanced Search page. A red callout box at the top left says "Begin by clicking on 'Advanced Search'". A red callout box on the right says "Add search term(s) here" pointing to the search input fields. A red callout box at the bottom right says "Remove the checkmark from the box 'Any Publication Type' and select 'Journal Articles'". The interface includes a search bar with "Keywords (all fields)", a "Full-Text Availability" checkbox, a "Publication Date" range selector, and a "Publication Type(s)" list where "Journal Articles" is checked and "Any Publication Type" is unchecked.

For help in using this database, consult this ERIC Research Guide and/or a reference librarian at the CRC or at Mabee Library.
