3. PAYMENT

The room and board charges for the unit selected by the student for the term of the license agreement are outlined in the schedule of payment and may also be determined by adding the sum of the damage deposit, room charges, and meal charges.

- Deposit: Students are required to pay a deposit of three hundred dollars ($300) when returning this Agreement to the Residential Living Office. Two hundred dollars ($200) of the deposit will be applied to the first semester charges for occupancy and will be non-refundable after June 1, 2009 (December 1, 2009 for Spring 2010 semester only students.) One hundred dollars ($100) is a damage deposit and is refundable upon the expiration of the term less any amounts required for repair of damage to the premises and/or debt owed to the University.
- Payment Schedule: Room and board costs are due in full at the beginning of each semester. Room and board fees will be added to the statement of charges at the time the student pays his/her tuition and fees. The last day to clear the Business Office for the Fall 2009 semester are August 28, 2009 and January 29, 2010 for the Spring 2010. Late fees will apply after that date. - Payment Deferral: If a student cannot pay the entire balance of the semester's housing costs at the time of tuition and fee payment installment plans are available via IBOD. The student's first installment payment for a semester will be required at least 1/4 of the balance due for the semester, $200 of the deposit will be credited against the first semester's charges. The remaining fees for the semester may then be paid in up to three (3) equal installments.
- Late fee: A late payment fee of $25 will be assessed to the student's account for each delinquent payment. Students with accounts unpaid for more than a month shall be subject to action which may include immediate eviction and a hold on future transactions with the University.

4. COMPLIANCE WITH REGULATIONS

All residents and their guests are expected to comply with all University rules and regulations concerning conduct of students in the residence halls and at the University which are now in effect or which may be adopted by the University during the term of this contract. It is the responsibility of the student to read thoroughly, the WASHBURN UNIVERSITY STUDENT CONDUCT CODE, the RESIDENCE HALL HANDBOOK, and the STUDENT HANDBOOK/PLANNER publications. A current copy of each publication will be made available to each resident and will be available in each hall. The student may be required to vacate his/her room and the residence halls for violation of the rules, policies, or regulations as set forth in the documents listed above as well as for acts contrary to federal, state, or local laws. In the event a student is required to leave the residence hall, the contract cancellation charges per section 13, CANCELLATION CHARGES, will apply.

5. DINING SERVICES

Meal service begins the day after the residence halls open each semester and ends the last day of final examinations in December and May of the school year in which this contract applies. Meal service may be limited or not available during the following official University breaks during the 2009-2010 academic year: Fall Break, Thanksgiving Break, Semester/ Winter Break, and Spring Break. If the University closes due to inclement weather, Dining Services may run limited hours.

The board portion of this contract will be provided by Washburn University Dining Services. Dining Services operating hours are designed to offer service for three meals each weekday and the midday meal on Saturday and Sunday. The University reserves the right to change the location of meal service at any time.

All residents have a Union Market Account and Bod Bucks Account accessed by use of the campus identification card called the iCard. Half the annual amount will be applied to the each of these accounts at the beginning of the Fall semester. The second half will be credited to the accounts in the Spring semester. Students have three weeks from the first day of classes in the Fall and Spring semesters to make changes to their selected meal plan. Changes cannot be made after the three-week grace period. Lost or stolen iCards should be reported immediately. There is a $10.00 charge for replacement cards.

Unused Union Market money from the Fall semester will automatically stay on the account for the Spring semester. All Union Market money must be used by the end of the Spring semester. Unused funds will be forfeited.

6. ASSIGNMENTS

Room assignments are made in a nondiscriminatory manner, based on information provided on the information card. The University reserves the right to change the assignment of a student when it is deemed appropriate. Whenever possible, the University shall accommodate a student in making a change in his/her living assignment following an alleged sexual assault against him/her, if requested. Room changes will not be permitted until two weeks after the first day of classes each semester.

7. CONSOLIDATION

At any time during the academic year, if a student has requested a double occupancy room but does not have a roommate for whatever reason, the resident must select one of the following options:

- Choose to move to another half-filled room in the same complex (i.e., Kuehne Hall, Living Learning Center, West Hall or Washburn Village).
- Find another resident in a half-filled room who is willing to move into the room.
- Elect to pay the private room fee and retain the room privately for the remainder of the semester/academic year. This option is available only when there is space available. Private room fees will be calculated on a prorated basis.

If a resident is occupying a double room without a roommate and is not required to consolidate and does not wish to contract for a private room, the resident must sign a Double Room Agreement which binds him/her to the following:

- Keep the unoccupied half of the room in such condition that would allow someone to move into the room on short notice.
- Display an attitude of cooperation and acceptance toward any resident who may examine the room prior to considering occupancy.
- Agree that the room may be shown to prospective occupants without prior notification in his/her absence.

Failure to follow these guidelines will result in the resident being officially assigned a private room, with the room charges being adjusted accordingly from the date of vacancy to reflect the private room fee.

8. RIGHT TO ENTRY

The student grants the University the right and privilege to enter his/her room for the purpose of making health and safety inspections, performing maintenance and repairs, or taking action as may be necessary in an emergency.

9. FIRE, THEFT, DAMAGE, or ABANDONED PROPERTY

The student recognizes he/she is responsible for: the theft or loss of his/her money, valuables, or personal property; any damage to his/her personal property from any cause whatsoever; and for any property left in the building after he/she vacates or is expected to vacate. Property left by the student after the date he/she vacates the building shall be deemed abandoned property and the University shall have the right to dispose of it through sale, donation, or any other manner it deems appropriate. Students are encouraged to carry appropriate insurance.

11. TERMINATIONS

This agreement shall terminate in the event the room to which the student is assigned becomes uninhabitable on account of the partial or complete destruction of it by fire, casualty or other course beyond the control of the University or in the event ingress and egress to such room becomes impossible on account of such partial or complete destruction beyond the University's control and there is no room to which the student can be moved.

By the Student- Students should note that termination of this room and board contract during the academic year is not automatic and should not be assumed. A student who wishes to terminate his/her contract must provide written notification to the Director of Residential Living. A student who terminates his/her contract after occupancy, but who remains enrolled at Washburn, will also be charged a prorated amount for the number of days they had the right to occupy the room under the contract and 35% of the balance due on the contract for the academic year. Students who are required to leave the residence hall for failure to meet their financial obligations under the terms of the contract, who are removed from the halls because of disciplinary reasons or who vacate the halls without giving the Residential Living Office prior notification will also be charged a prorated amount for the number of days they had the right to occupy the room under the contract and 35% of the balance due on the contract for the academic year.

- Students canceling in writing after June 1, 2009 but prior to the official opening of the units (August 12, 2009 for Fall; January 13, 2010 for Spring) will forfeit their $200 deposit but shall be refunded the $100 damage deposit.
- Students who are released from their unit License Agreement after the units open (August 12, 2009 for Fall; January 13, 2010 for Spring) will be charged: (i) for the number of days from the official opening to the date the cancellation is approved and the room is vacated; and, (ii) 35% of their remaining room and board balance for the academic year.
- Students who cancel their License at the end of the Fall semester and do not return to Washburn for the Spring semester because they are graduating, transferring to another institution, withdrawing from the University or studying abroad, will not be charged a cancellation fee; provided the student provides the Residential Living Office written notification of the intent to terminate for the second semester on or before December 1, 2009. Cancellation requests received after December 1, 2009 will be assessed the 35% cancellation fee. Students canceling for reasons other than those listed will be charged the cancellation fee regardless of when the contract is cancelled.
