My dear Mrs. Draper,

Please believe that I am extremely sorry for this state of affairs. I understand only too well, for the wellknown depression has not entirely spared me. I'd like to help you and all of my promising ex-students who have come upon hard times, but if I should attempt it, what would become of me?

I can only hope that you will find it possible before long to take advantage of the offer I made in my recent letter. That is the very best that I can do just now.

Won't you let me hear from you occasionally?

Sincerely yours,

Ths. H. Uzzell
