

Washburn University
Enrollment Report
Fall 2019

Strategic Analysis & Reporting

February 21, 2020

The Fall 2019 Enrollment Report provides information about headcount and student credit hour enrollment for Washburn University (Washburn) and Washburn University Institute of Technology (Washburn Tech), based on each campus's 20th day census snapshot. Appendix A (pp. 19) provides fall headcount enrollment for the six public four-year Kansas institutions, the community colleges, and technical schools.

Tables 1, 5, 6, 9, 11, and 12, as well as Appendix A, and Graphs 1 and 2 (pp. 7-8, 12-14, 17, 19-20, 29) either provide headcount and credit hour comparisons between Fall 2018 and Fall 2019 or describe the characteristics of Fall 2019 students. Tables 2, 3, 4, 7, 8, and 10 (pp. 9-11, 15-16, 19) provide longitudinal trends documenting headcount and credit hour changes.

Supplementary Tables 1, 2, 5-7 (pp. 21-22, 25-27) provide snapshot data between 2010 and 2019, while Tables 3 and 4 (pp. 23-24) provide data between 2010 and 2019, documenting headcount and credit hour changes for each of the types of students – defined in the main body below -- who enroll at Washburn and their demographic and academic characteristics as of the 20th day snapshot. Supplementary Table 8 (pp. 28) documents how the number of credit hours at each college or school – in lower and upper division courses as well as graduate courses – have changed between 2010 and 2019.

Executive Summary

- Overall Washburn headcount enrollment decreased 286 students to 6,285 in Fall 2019 from the Fall 2018 semester's 6,571, or 4.4%. Credit hours decreased 3,224, or 4.5%, going from 71,883 in Fall 2018 to 68,659 in Fall 2019. FTE decreased from 4,931 to 4,710, or 4.5%. See Table 1.
- When excluding high school students, overall headcount enrollment decreased 266 students from Fall 2018, or 2.2%. Credit hours decreased 1,707, a 2.5% drop. See Figures 1 and 2.
- Overall degree-seeking undergraduate headcount enrollment decreased in Fall 2019 to 4,567 from the Fall 2018 semester enrollment of 4,765, a 4.2% decrease. Credit hours decreased 2,808, a 4.4% decline. See Table 1 and Supplementary Table 8.
  - First-time freshmen headcount decreased to 788 students from the Fall 2018 semester's 791 headcount, a 0.4% decrease. Credit hours increased 0.5% for first-time freshmen. Direct from high school first-time freshmen headcount increased to 732 students from the Fall 2018 headcount of 729, a 0.4% increase. Credit hours increased 1.7%. See "Direct from High School" in Supplementary Table 1.
  - Other first-time freshmen headcount decreased by 6 students, a 9.6% decrease, and credit hours decreased 15.1%. See "Other first-time freshmen" in Supplementary Table 1 and also Table 1.
  - Transfer student headcount decreased 5.0%, falling from 543 students in Fall 2018 to 516 students in Fall 2019. Credit hours decreased 5.0%. See Supplementary Table 2.
  - Returning undergraduate student headcount decreased by 10 students from Fall 2018 to Fall 2019, a decrease of 4.5%. See Supplementary Table 3.

- The Fall 2019 continuing undergraduate headcount population decreased 160 students from Fall 2018, a decline of 5.0%. Credit hours increased 11.4%. See Supplementary Table 4.
- Overall, non-law degree-seeking graduate student headcount enrollment decreased 5.4%, declining from 539 students to 510. Credit hours decreased 4.9%. See Supplementary Table 5.
  - The incoming graduate student count decreased by 1 student and increased by 84.5 credit hours, year over year.
  - The continuing and transferring graduate student population decreased 7.7%, or 28 students, and credit hours decreased 10.7%.
- Overall, law student headcount enrollment decreased by 10 students from Fall 2018 to Fall 2019. Law students took 138 fewer credit hours in Fall 2019 compared to Fall 2018. See Supplementary Table 5.
  - The first-time law student population decreased by 5 students and 96 fall SCH.
  - The continuing and transferring law student population decreased by 5 students, and the Fall 2019 students generated 42 fewer credit hours than in Fall 2018, a 1.3% decrease.
- The non-degree-seeking student population and the credit hours they generated decreased in Fall 2019 compared to Fall 2018. See Supplementary Table 7.
  - The high school population decreased by 20 students between Fall 2018 and Fall 2019, a 2.4% decrease in enrollment. High school credit hours decreased 4.5% between Fall 2018 and Fall 2019.
  - The non-degree-seeking undergraduate student population decreased 23.9% between Fall 2018 and Fall 2019, falling from 109 students to 83. These students generated 24.8% fewer credit hours in Fall 2019 compared to Fall 2018, a decline of 187 credit hours.
  - The non-degree-seeking graduate student population decreased by 3 students, from 8 students in Fall 2018 to 5 in Fall 2019. These students generated 11 fewer hours in Fall 2019, declining from 38 credit hours in Fall 2018 to 27 in Fall 2019.
- The 65 and over auditor population increased from 230 students in Fall 2018 to 231 students in Fall 2019. See Table 1.
- Washburn Tech's total headcount enrollment increased 63 students between Fall 2018 and Fall 2019, a 4.4% increase. Washburn Tech's credit hour production increased 882 credit hours, a 4.9% increase. See Tables 11 and 12.

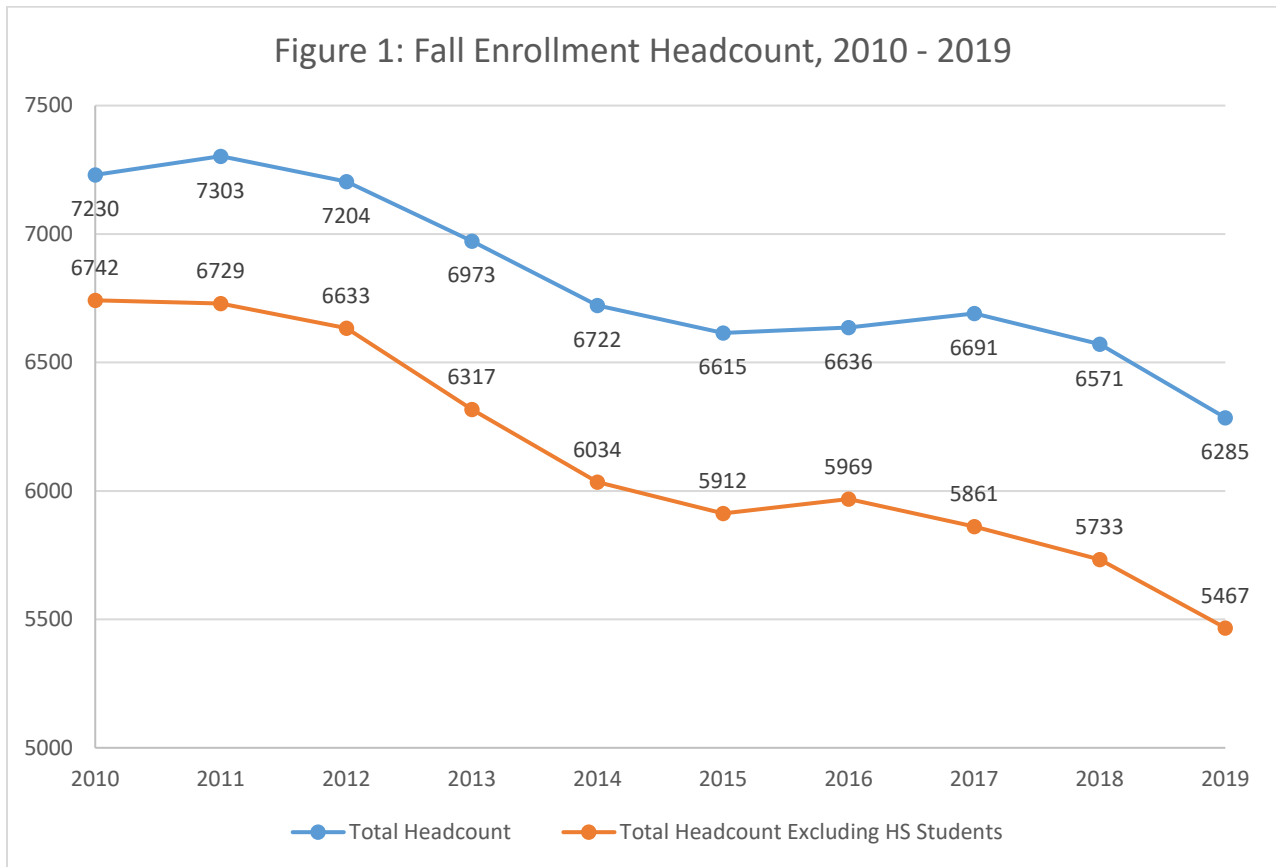

- Headcount enrollment at the six four-year public universities combined increased 0.1% between Fall 2018 and Fall 2019, whereas community colleges declined 3.1%, and technical colleges grew 5.7%. See Appendix A.

Ten Year Trends

This section provides ten-year trends (2010-2019) for headcount populations and credit hour generation.

Washburn University’s Overall Headcount and Credit Hours

Figures 1 and 2 document changes in Washburn’s enrollment for the past ten years (2010-2019) for total headcount and credit hour enrollment when including and excluding high school students.

Undergraduate Level

Washburn's undergraduate level is composed of first-time freshmen, incoming transfer students, returning undergraduates (i.e., students who were enrolled, stepped out for a semester – excluding summer -- or more, and re-enrolled), and continuing undergraduates. All first-time freshmen, new transfer students, and returning students immediately become continuing undergraduates upon successful registration in the next semester. This section provides ten years of headcount trend information. For more information about each population's demographic and academic characteristics, please refer to Supplementary Tables 1-4 (pp. 21-24).

First-time Freshmen

First-time freshmen are composed of students who matriculate to Washburn directly out of high school and students who take a year or more off of their formal education between high school graduation and their postsecondary matriculation to Washburn (other first-time freshmen).

Supplementary Table 1 shows how these groups have changed since 2010. First-time freshmen who matriculate directly out of high school have increased 16.5% since 2010.

The other type of first-time freshmen – who average 24.71 years of age – has declined 70.6% since 2010. See Supplementary Table 1 for the demographic and academic characteristics of these students.

Undergraduate Transfer Students

There have been dramatic year-over-year variations in the number of transfer students coming to Washburn. Overall, since 2010, the incoming transfer student population has decreased 20.1%, or 130 students. Supplementary Table 2 shows how undergraduate transfer students have changed since 2010.

Returning Students

Supplementary Table 3 shows how returning undergraduate students have changed since 2010. Overall, these students have declined 40.9% since 2010.

Continuing Undergraduate Students

The size of any current continuing undergraduate student population is dependent on two factors: (1) the size of the previous semesters' incoming classes (i.e., first-time freshmen and transfers) as well as the size of the returning and continuing student populations and (2) those classes' return rates. Supplementary Table 4 shows how the continuing undergraduate population has changed since 2010.

Overall, the size of the continuing student population has declined 17.8%, or 662 students, since Fall 2010.

Graduate Level

Graduate students are composed of first-time graduate students and continuing (or new transfer) graduate students. Supplementary Table 5 shows how these populations have changed since 2010.<sup>1</sup>

The number of first-time graduate students has increased since 2010. Since then, the first-time graduate student population has increased by 90 students, and credit hour production has increased by 805.5 credit hours.

The continuing (and transferring) graduate headcount has decreased by 16 students since Fall 2010, an 18.6% decrease.

Law School

Washburn Law School is composed of first-time law students, new transfer law students, and continuing law students. Supplementary Table 6 shows how these populations have changed since 2010.

First-time law students have declined 39.6% since Fall 2010; however, the headcount has been between 80 and 89 each fall semester since 2015.

Continuing and transferring law students have decreased 31.0% since 2010; however, these numbers have varied only slightly (i.e., between 223 and 216) since Fall 2015.

Non-Degree-Seeking Students

Non-degree-seeking students include high school students enrolled for Washburn credit as well as undergraduate and graduate students who are enrolled in credit hours but who are not pursuing a degree. Supplementary Table 7 shows how these populations have changed since 2010.

High school students have grown dramatically since 2010 when 488 high school students were enrolled. In Fall 2019, Washburn enrolled over one and a half times that number: 818 students. Since high school students began enrolling in higher numbers in Fall 2010, Washburn's high school population has grown 67.6%, from 488 students to 818 as of Fall 2019.

<sup>1</sup> Beginning with the Spring 2017 semester, Washburn introduced a way to track graduate students who transfer to Washburn from other graduate programs. When, in a few years, trend data becomes available, these students will be separated from the continuing graduate student population.

The undergraduate non-degree headcount has declined 51.7% since Fall 2010, a total loss of 89 students.

The graduate non-degree headcount has declined in the last ten years. In Fall 2010, 15 students were enrolled, and in Fall 2019, 5 students were enrolled. The peak was 24 students in Fall 2012.

Credit Hours by College/School

Supplementary Table 8 tracks credit hours generated by each college/school at Washburn since 2010.

Overall, Washburn's credit hours have decreased 12.9% since 2010. When excluding credit hours produced by high school students, Washburn's credit hours have decreased 15.4%.

Since Fall 2010, the following colleges/schools have increased credit hours production:

- School of Nursing (15.5%)
- VPAA/Other (96.0%)

The following colleges/schools have decreased credit hours production:

- College of Arts & Sciences (-19.8%)
- School of Applied Studies (-2.9%)
- School of Business (-9/6%)
- School of Law (-36.3%)

Credit hour production decreased at the following course levels:

- Lower Division courses (-7.3%)
  - When excluding high school students, there is negative growth (-11.8%)
- Upper Division courses (-3.0%)
- Graduate and Law (-18.1%)

Credit hour production increased at the following course levels:

- Non-Law Graduate courses (21.9%)
