Personal Professional Reflection Statement

Dimensions of Reflection

The purpose of this statement is for you to reflect on the experiences you have had in your education courses in relation to the four dimensions of the Washburn Department of Education Conceptual Framework. Your reflection should include specific emerging professional teaching goals, at least two for Dimension 1, and one for Dimension 2 and 3.

Scoring Rubric

Your reflections will be reviewed as per the following criteria. In the event an overall evaluation receives an "Inadequate" level, additional information and/or a meeting with members of the Undergraduate Admissions Committee may be requested.

High Level of Reflection

Reflections are directly related to the dimensions and specific goals based on those reflections are clearly articulated. Evidence of careful consideration of the needs of the profession with the development of specific personal professional development skills and experiences. Well-written with correct punctuation, spelling, and a professional tone.

Adequate Level of Reflection

Reflections are generally related to the dimensions. Goals are presented but may lack specificity. Some consideration is given to the needs of the profession in relation to personal professional development. The writing is acceptable but may not be clear and/or lack a professional tone.

Inadequate Level of Reflection

Reflections do not relate to the dimensions or are too broad to provide evidence of careful consideration of the needs of profession with the development of personal professional development. Poor writing and/or a general lack of professionalism.

1. Reflection on Self as Emerging Professional What experiences in schools, on campus, in educational settings, etc. have contributed to your decision to become a teacher? What goal(s) do you have as a result? *

2. Reflection on the Context of Teaching and Learning What goal(s) may you have for understanding student differences and their impact on teaching and learning? *

3. Reflection on Student Diversity What goal(s) may you have for recognizing the importance of social and cultural influences on learning? *
