WHY MAJOR IN HUMAN SERVICES AT WASHBURN?

Flexible

At the undergraduate level, you can complete our degrees online or on-campus (or whatever combination works for you). Our Master's degree is entirely online, and fieldwork may be completed in your own community. Several of our on-campus classes are offered in evening or weekend workshop formats to better fit into student's busy schedules. Students at all levels can choose full- or part-time enrollment.

Meaningful

We offer small class sizes, which means more one-on-one attention for you. Our faculty has real-world professional experience. Our degrees and certificates involve practical, applied learning opportunities that will prepare you for a rewarding career in a wide variety of helping professions. If you know you want to help people, but you are not sure exactly how your faculty advisor will help you explore your options and get a broad scope of practical experiences. On the other hand, if you know exactly what you want your role to be, we will work with you to tailor your degree and fieldwork towards your specific goals. Either way, students leave our program with practical experience on their resume and professional contacts in their own community.

Affordable

We recognize the hard work that some students have done at other institutions and we are committed to being transfer-friendly. Give us a call to make an appointment with an advisor to see about substituting previous coursework for human services credit. Our tuition is very reasonable. Washburn University offers financial aid and scholarships, and some of our students gain relevant professional experience while earning federal work-study money through Washburn's Bonner Leaders Program.
