* The policy of the University is to allow field students the same holidays as designated for all students; however, field instructors and students should discuss client assignments which may necessitate student's responsibility during vacations. Field instructors should assist students in planning their assignments so that all work will be completed by vacation times and appropriate arrangements will be made with clients for student's absences. (In some instances a student's continued involvement with the field education placement during breaks may be necessary - please consult with the MSW Field Education Director, Jenny Lamb.
