

Dedicated FTI Travel Advisors

for Washburn University

fellowship.com

We're excited to introduce Fellowship Travel International (FTI) as a new travel provider for Washburn University. With over 40 years of experience supporting academic travel, FTI specializes in custom air and land arrangements tailored to your curriculum and budget.

As you begin planning programs for 2026, we urge you to start early, especially with the FIFA World Cup taking place across North America from June to July. This global event will significantly impact flight availability and pricing across the continent, even for non-World Cup destinations. Airlines are already limiting group space, and inventory will tighten quickly. To secure the best itineraries and rates, we recommend booking as soon as possible since flight inventory is already open. FTI is here to help you navigate this busy travel season and ensure your program runs smoothly. Please reach out to begin planning. We're ready when you are!
