

Avinash Dhimal

Hello there!

My name is Avinash Dhimal. I am from Nepal. I am currently pursuing a Molecular Biology/Biotechnology degree. I am super excited to start my senior year next semester. Among many things I enjoy, playing soccer always tops the list. I am a huge music fan, and I love playing guitar (not that I am great at it though). I also love traveling. Fun fact: I have been to 15 different states so far. Coming to Washburn has been absolute revelation for me interms of expanding my horizons at so many levels. It's been a roller coaster ride so far, but I have enjoyed every bit of my time here. For those who are venturing with us in this journey, welcome to the family. We are so excited and hoping to be a part of your story. Can't wait to see your awesomeness.

GO BODS!
