

Standard Software – Current as of 3/13/2017

PC Workstations – Standard Software

| Installed software            | Description  |
|-------------------------------|--|
| Microsoft Windows 7           | Operating System used on Desktop and Laptop PC devices   |
| Microsoft Windows 10          | Operating System used on Microsoft Surface and HP Tablet Devices  |
| Microsoft Office 2013         | Professional Plus Edition – Standard Campus Productivity Package   |
| Internet Explorer 11          | For browsing the Internet, except for D2L   |
| Mozilla Firefox               | For browsing the internet, preferred browser for D2L  |
| Adobe Acrobat Reader          | Application for reading portable document format (PDF) files   |
| Adobe AIR Runtime             | For using content created with Adobe AIR   |
| Adobe Flash Player            | For playing content, within a web browser, created with Flash  |
| Adobe Shockwave Runtime       | For playing content, within a web browser, created with Shockwave  |
| Microsoft Silverlight Runtime | For playing content, within a web browser, created with Silverlight  |
| VLC Media Player              | Open source multimedia player  |
| FileZilla Client              | FTP/SFTP client  |
| IBM SPSS Statistics 23        | Predictive Analytics Software, modeling, data mining, etc.   |
| Notepad++                     | Open source enhanced code and text editor  |
| PuTTY                         | Open source SSH and telnet client  |
| Sophos Endpoint Security      | Security software that protects against malware, managed centrally by ITS. Required on all devices owned by the University that are connected to any network, regardless of whether said device is in WUAD or acts as a standalone system. |

Computer Labs may have additional software that is not listed in this document. You may find this information on the Computer Lab Listing, located at <http://www.washburn.edu/a-z-index/its/files/computer-lab-list.pdf>

Please see next page for macOS information

Standard Software – Current as of 3/13/2017

Mac Workstations – Standard Software

| Installed Software        | Description  |
|---------------------------|--|
| macOS El Capitan - Sierra | Operating System   |
| Microsoft Office 2011     | Standard Microsoft Office package for Mac, being retired .  |
| Microsoft Office 2016     | Standard Microsoft Office package for Mac, deployment in progress .   |
| Safari                    | For browsing the Internet  |
| Mozilla Firefox           | For browsing the Internet, preferred browser for D2L  |
| Adobe Acrobat Reader      | Application for reading portable document format (PDF) files   |
| Adobe Flash Player        | For playing content, within a web browser, created with Flash  |
| VLC Media Player          | Open source multimedia player  |
| FileZilla Client          | FTP/SFTP Client  |
| Managed Software Center   | Munki Project – Provides software updates to Macs  |
| Microsoft Remote Desktop  | Used to connect to WUAPPS or STAT server, Banner access, etc   |
| TextWrangler              | Freeware all-purpose text and code editor  |
| Sophos Endpoint Security  | Security software that protects against malware, managed centrally by ITS. Required on all devices owned by the University that are connected to any network, regardless of whether said device is in WUAD or acts as a standalone system. |

Computer Labs may have additional software that is not listed in this document. You may find this information on the Computer Lab Listing, located at <http://www.washburn.edu/a-z-index/its/files/computer-lab-list.pdf>